Ecommerce site that allows users to buy and sell fragrances.

- Orchestrated the deployment of React and Redux on the frontend to manage the application's state, fostering a dynamic and user-friendly interface.
- Utilized Flask and SQLAlchemy on the backend to execute server-side operations.
- Engineered a Search Bar, Pagination, and Left-Hand Filters using React's `useState` and `useEffect`. This development enhances user navigation, allowing swift item discovery and improved overall usability.
- Created a Cart Modal utilizing Local Storage functionality, ensuring persistent storage of cart data for users, regardless of login status or database resets, enhancing the overall user experience by maintaining seamless access to cart information.
- Implemented Google Maps Place Autocomplete to streamline the autocomplete of geolocation, in Signup and Order forms, enhancing user experience by enabling quick and accurate data input.

SavoryScoop (React / Redux, JavaScript, Google Maps API, Flask, AWS S3, SQLALchemy, HTML, CSS)

Food Delivery site inspired by Uber Eats.

- Designed REST APIs in Flask to facilitate consistent and efficient data exchange between the frontend and backend servers, ensuring robust and reliable communication within the application.
- Spearheaded smooth collaboration with team members, implementing a streamlined Git and pull request workflow to proactively prevent and efficiently resolve potential merge conflicts, ensuring a cohesive development process.
- Developed restaurant and item forms with AWS S3 integration, to increase fetch efficiency and reducing the overall load.
- Improved restaurant details page by integrating Google Maps API, providing users with an interactive map for accurate location visualization.
